

SCOTLAND'S PRESENCE ON THE WEB

Monumental Inscriptions

Scotfot www.scotfot.com/ was created by R. P. McIntosh who says:

“The focus is on early gravestones up to the mid 19th century especially those rich in carvings and regarded as examples of Scottish folk art. Some later headstones may be included if I found them interesting. I've also included war memorials and war graves as they are a particular interest.”

You navigate these photo galleries like you would wander around a cemetery or inside a church which, is rather fun but you do need time as there are lots of photos. I like to use this click-through link <http://scotfot.smugmug.com/Scottish%20gravestones> as a starting point.

At the time of writing this paper the Scottish Graveyards Website was being revised www.scottishgraveyards.org.uk/

The Scottish War Graves Project can be found at www.scottishwargraves.phpbbweb.com/

War graves in St Nicholas Churchyard Union Street, Aberdeen are recorded at www.scottishwargraves.phpbbweb.com/scottishwargraves-ftopic1125.html There is a Google street view link which is well worth a look.

The photo of Margaret McHendry and Archibald Fullarton's headstone is located in Old High Church Inverness and is from Mandi Munro via email. Her sites are as follows:

Inverness-Shire Gravestones <http://otherplacesgravestones.webs.com/> Western Isles & Other Places Gravestones <http://www.freewebs.com/boogiechick/> Ross & Cromarty Gravestones.

Photograph storage sites are also a good source for graves photos. There are Beaulieu Priory photos (and of course lots of others) on Webshots <http://family.webshots.com/photo/1069833693032381555YLgPcK> and on Flickr www.flickr.com/photos/walla2chick/5103246448/in/photostream/
